Society To Honor Coleman

Dr. Thomas H. Coleman, immediate past president of the Lackawanna County Medical Society, will be honored at the society's annual banquet Saturday evening, Jan. 23 at St. Mary's Center.

Drs. Norman S. Berger and Thomas F. Clauss, co-chairmen, announce that the affair will commence with a cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m., followed by installation ceremonies for the new president, Dr. Edwin C. Neville, and presentation of awards to other members for distinguished service. Dinner and dancing to music of the Joseph Bachak orchestra will follow.

Toastmaster will be Dr. Joseph J. O'Brien and invocation and benediction by Msgr. Thomas C. Horan, pastor, St. Rose Church, Carbondale.

Assisting with arrangements are: Drs. Charles J. Bannon, Dominick A. Cruciani Jr., John J. Hennigan, John J. Holmes, James A. Kane, Walter J. Larkin Jr., Albert P. Morgan, Salvatore R. Pettinato, Edward M. Skovira, Ralph J. Touch and Robert E. Wright.

Reservations are essential and can be arranged through the society administrative office.

Dr. Coleman attended the meeting of the Committee to Restore Carbondale City Hall on 12-17-1982 and said same very nice things to the group assembled about the Committee and its plans for Carbondale City Hall.
